Additional Comments

- By far, he is the best math professor I have ever had. The way the class was set up was excellent for learning and really helped me understand why things were the way they were other than "because thats how it works" I would love to take another class from him.
- Cool class. Learned some of the applications of calculus to problems I would encounter during career.
- Did a good job presenting the material.
- I took Calc I with Dr. Yattselev and it was great, and this class was, too. He is very clear with his examples, and will answer any questions students have during or outside of class. His accent is noticeable, but does not impede understanding at all.

I've projected myself to get a C in the class. This is not because of Dr. Yattselev's teaching, but due to my poor attendance. He is a thorough and very fair instructor, and with proper attendance and homework performance a B/B+ should be easily attainable.
- I would've liked to take all my math classes from him. There was a lot of homework, but overall it prepared me well for the tests and final.
- The lectures can sometimes be hard to follow, in part because the textbook does a poor job presenting concepts in a way that prepares students for the class. The tests in this course are exceptionally difficult; I have brought exam questions to the MAC and the tutors there had difficulty working some of them. Grading policies are strange: Homework is weighted as heavily as the tests and the final exam. On a positive note, Mr. Yattselev is exceptionally helpful outside of class. He responds to e-mail quickly and his office hours are invaluable.
- This Instructor was able to break down the material so that it was easier to understand what was required to be successful in this course, this is hard to find in a math teacher.
- This is my second semester with Mr. Yattselev, I also took 165 with him and actively chose him this semester because of how he structures his class and his obvious knowledge of the material. He has always been available to help during office hours and has given me clear answers on questions I have come to him with.
- Yattselev was a great Teacher! definitely better than the teacher I had for Calc I. I would recomend and take another class with this instructor!
